2017 Gaudon Cahors Malbec-Merlot France $11

Still with its tannins firmly in place, this is a structured wine. It has a dry core surrounded by bold black fruits and kept in place with acidity. The wine, mainly Malbec with some Merlot added to soften will be ready to drink.

2014 Las Nencias Reserve Malbec Argentina $12

Las Nencias valley is located 3000 m above sea level in Mendoza, Argentina, with the back drop view of Marmolejo glacier amid the Andes Mountains. It is in this valley, accessible only on horseback or on foot, where we carry out several outdoor activities every year with our family. The most distinctive feature of this place is the wild growth of "nencias" (gentianella multicaulis), a variety of a stunning bluish - purple flower.

2017 Saint Cosme Cotes-Du-Rhone France $15

The 100% Syrah 2017 Cotes du Rhone is a bargain superstar, offering hints of smoke, cracked pepper, blueberries and black olives. It's medium to full-bodied, with a long, supple finish. You're not going to find a better Syrah. 90 Points Wine Advocate

2016 Mercer Edge of Heaven Red Blend WA $13 Washington's Horse Heaven Hills for this Merlot-based blend. Two of the varieties that the Mercer vineyards are best known for — Syrah (31%) and Malbec (16%) — support the Merlot (39%), and the barrel program is alluring. A sweet and spicy aromatic blend of cherry cola, clove and crushed red pepper flakes leads to rich and juicy flavors of blackcurrant juice, licorice and caramel, a trail that finishes with well-managed blueberry skin tannins and makes for a nicely textured and super-tasting wine.

2012 Apex Merlot WA $12

Firm in texture, with nubby tannins around a glowing core of green olive-tinged blackberry and mint flavors, lingering with refinement against fine tannins. Drink through 2019 90 Points Wine Spectator

2015 Idealist Diplomat Pinot Noir Oregon $14

The 2015 Diplomat is a blend of two blocks of Beacon Hill vineyard. This year's blend is 100% Pommard clone of Pinot Noir. The Diplomat spent 29 months in barrel. Extended barrel aging softened the coarse tannins leaving the wine with a smooth finish. The warm growing season created a robust wine that still finds a way to be elegant. Please enjoy.
